

WHAT'S SO GOOD ABOUT UNIONS? ANYWAY?

IT MAY NOT BE WHAT YOU THINK

VOICE

“Being in a union means I have A say at work -my ideas and expertise are listened to. I'm respected”

TRUST

“When you have a system to ensure fairness on the job, you're free to work as a team-you trust each other instead of looking over your shoulder. And you get the training to be the best in your profession.”

FAIRNESS

“When working men and women come together at work and in our communities, together we can help balance the power of big corporations and create a fair economy.”

Each of us depends on the work of others. But sometimes working men and women don't get the thanks or respect they deserve. Across the country, working men and women have come together in unions to solve problems at work, gain a voice on the job and secure a better future for ourselves, our families and our communities. Because we are better together.
